TWO GREAT NATIONAL & HISTORICAL PEN PICTURES.

THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION AND GREAT REBELLION!

1776 and 1863,

Embracing the Great State Papers and Thirty Portraits of the Most Eminent Men of these Important Periods of American History.

*Just Completed and Copyright Secured by Prof. D. T.
Ames, President of the National Business College, Syracuse, N. Y.*

Various sized Photograph prints of these wonders of art, are now published, and in the hands of agents for sale; they are to be sold by agents only. It is the purpose of the publisher to canvass thoroughly every town and county in the United States, to offer for sale these popular and marvelous pictures.

We clip the following description from the Daily Journal:—
“They are 32x42 inches, and are, beyond a question, the most remarkable pen pictures which have yet been produced.

WHAT EMINENT MEN SAY.

Hon. F. H. Pierpoint, Gov. of Virginia.

“I congratulate you on the very high artistic skill you have perfected and displayed in these beautiful pictures. I consider the portraits of the living personages with whom I am acquainted, the most perfect likenesses I have ever seen.”

Hon. Gerritt Smith.

“Wherever these pictures go they will speak for art and patriotism.”

Hon. Paul Dillingham, Gov. of Vermont.

“The portraits seem life-like and true to the originals. They most certainly embody the perfection in the art of Pen Pictures and fine penmanship.”

Hon. Thos. C. Fletcher, Gov. of Missouri.

“They are elegant in design and excellent in execution. In them you have made a handsome and enduring contribution to American Art.”

Hon. A. G. Curtin, Gov. of Pennsylvania.

“They represent superb specimens of ornamental penmanship, and in their design unite two of the greatest events in the history of our Republic.”

“They give evidence of great skill and artistic taste.”

Hon. Frederick Smyth, Gov. of New Hampshire.

“They are artistic and beautiful in design, and exhibit great skill and talent in execution. They are the best specimens of penmanship I have ever examined.”

Hon. Thomas E. Bramlett, Gov. of Kentucky.

“Your pen pictures are among the wonders of art.”

Hon. Thos. G. Alvord, Lieut. Gov. of New York.

“For beauty of execution and correctness of delineation, they will compare more than favorably with the brush and the print. I trust as an appreciation of the great skill of yourself as a penman, and of the intrinsic merits of the works themselves, they will find a wide circulation.”

Ex-Gov. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York.

“I am confident that these pictures can hardly fail to prove a valuable addition to the works of art for the present day.”

Hon. W. G. Brownlow, Gov. of Tennessee.

“I thank you for the beautiful specimens of your “National Pen Pictures.” I consider them a handsome addition to my photograph album.”

Hon. Le Roy Morgan, Justice of the Supreme Court of New York.

“They are indeed a wonder and a marvel. I doubt whether the art of penmanship employed in these pen pictures has ever been equaled in this country. They are as beautiful to look upon as a steel engraving, and reflect the highest credit upon the artist.”

Hon. Cheney Ames, State Senator, Oswego, N. Y.

“I regard the talent, skill and patience that can produce two such admirably executed pieces as very rare, entitling the artist to the most favorable considerations as well as the most liberal support from the lovers of fine art. The interest felt in the two great historic events therein set forth, must enhance their value to all the patriotic.”

“The portraits of Washington and Lincoln are scarcely excelled by the finest steel engravings. The production of these pictures is but another striking practical demonstration of the advancement of the science of the age.”

Hon. Lucius Fairchild, Gov. of Wisconsin.

“I shall prize them highly, and hope you may be successful in distributing them throughout the country. They are very choice indeed.”

Geo. E. Parsons, Esq., Oswego, N. Y.

“I look upon them as the finest specimens of artistic skill ever produced with a pen. The subjects, too, are happily chosen, and your labor and skill will greatly tend to hand down to posterity the “Father” and the “Saviour” of our Country side by side.”

“These Pen Pictures are truly beautiful specimens of art, and show a remarkable skill in the use of the pen. Without the evidence before me I could not have believed it possible to have produced such results with a pen.”

Prof. W. A. Dinsmore, Ogdensburg, N. Y.

“As specimens of Pen Art, these pictures are far before anything I ever saw, being finer than the best steel engravings.”

Prof. O. S. Fowler.

“They are perfectly marvelous. I can hardly see how pen and ink could accomplish a piece of work so fine and yet so perfect.”

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS.

Peoples Journal, Greenwich, N. Y.

"They are beautiful in conception, exquisit in design, and perfect in execution. They at once link the perils of infancy with the manhood struggles of our republic, its founders with its preservers, and are fit emblems of American liberty, and should adorn the parlor of every American."

The Daily Standard says,

"They are works of decided merit, and add greatly to the already enviable reputation of Prof. Ames, as the leader in his department of education in the Empire State."

From the American Wesleyan.

"They are masterly and wonderful, almost beyond credibility."

Jordan Transcript, Jordan, N. Y.

"Altogether the pictures will compare with the most finely executed steel engravings, and go far to prove the unsurpassable qualities of the pen in a masterly hand. Prof. Ames has long stood at the head of his profession, his College ranking among the first and most successful in the land. These specimens of his skill in the use of the pen must establish his reputation far above his cotemporaries, a decision as final as it is just."

Hartford, Conn., Daily Press.

"They are wonderful specimens of Pen Painting, and might almost be classed among the curiosities of art."

From the State League.

"These pictures greatly surpass anything with a pen we have ever seen. We can heartily commend them to the young all over the country as well worthy of their attention, not only as specimens of wonderful proficiency in the use of the pen, but as historical pictures reminding us of the gigantic struggles through which our country has passed."

From the Daily Courier.

"They bear the impression of a master hand in the profession of penmanship and drawing. As a specimen of art they stand ahead of anything of the kind we ever saw."

From the Evening Dispatch.

"They are pictures of surpassing beauty, rarely, if ever excelled by steel engravings, in point of clearness or brilliancy. The portraits are excellent."

Oswego Palladium.

"They are marvelous productions, and we feel assured they will attain an immense popularity. They command the highest respect for the skill manifested in execution, and should find a place in every home in the land."

Oswego Commercial Advertiser & Times.

"They are rare and beautiful. Every family ought to secure two pictures which so commemorate two grand eras in our country's history."

Corning Journal.

"They are really novelties as works of art."

Owego Times.

"They are the most beautiful specimens of Pen Painting we have ever seen."

Delaware Gazette.

"They are beautiful specimens of art, and should find a place in every Album."

Albany Evening Post.

"They are the best things ever executed with a pen, being almost equal to the best engravings. The portraits are excellent, while the artistic merits of the work cannot be over praised. As curiosities we consider them invaluable."

General Courier.

"These pictures are not only extraordinary specimens of pen art, displaying great artistic skill, but monuments in the history of our Republic, as such they ought to be widely circulated."

Buffalo Daily Post.

"They are, beyond a question, the most remarkable pen pictures which have ever yet been produced."

Delaware Republican.

"The likenesses are remarkably correct and fine, and the whole most masterly, beautiful, wonderful productions of the pen."

Auburn Daily Advertiser.

"They evince a wonderful degree of art."

Cazenovia Republican.

"These specimens of art exceed anything of the kind which we have ever seen. In beauty of design and perfection of execution, they stand unrivaled and unequalled in the art of penmanship. They must prove a valuable addition to the beautiful works of art which are being gathered in the present day."

Utica Evening Telegraph.

"These are astonishing specimens of taste and artistic skill. As specimens of penmanship they are unequalled; but they are scarcely less valuable for their historic merit."

Daily Evening Star, Schenectady.

"We know of no more interesting works of art than these pictures, they are very skillfully executed."

Daily Union, Schenectady.

"These pictures are executed entirely with a steel pen, and are one of the most remarkable works of art ever exhibited to the public. They are an ornament that ought to be in every family to commemorate the deeds of our great heroes, and perpetuate the memory of our great struggle for Liberty and Independence."

Dundee Record.

"They are fine specimens of art, worthy of a place in every American home."

Branch Co. Gazette, Mich.

"They are executed in fine style."

Advertiser & Tribune, Detroit, Mich.

"They are novel and beautiful."

Free Press, Detroit, Mich.

"They are beautiful National Pen Pictures, well executed, clear, distinct, and excellent representatives of the originals."

From the New York Railroad Times.

"They certainly are the most beautiful specimens of calligraphy that we ever beheld. The portraits are distinct and expressive likenesses, and the groups form not only a pleasing and artistic device, but historic monuments worthy of the great periods they are intended to commemorate so graphically."

P. F. Ames's Commercial College.

The commercial College under the management and proprietorship of O. F. Ames, a superior Teacher and admirable manager, has had a richly deserved success this season.

During the Winter months there have been one hundred and Seventy three students in attendance, fifteen of whom were ladies.

The College is firmly established, and must become a valuable adjunct to the Educational system of our City.

The College room in the Meeting Place on the Second last Evening of Exercises of a very pleasing and noteworthy character. They were such as to deeply interest the Teachers and to highly edify the few invited spectators present.

P. F. Ames delivered a Lecture on Labor and hour in length, which was a well digested and very sensible dissertation on this subject by a truly practical and laboring man.

He shewed the imperative necessity of labor, the lost inducement to labor, - the noble rewards of labor rendered more certain and permanent by the exercise of discretion and good judgment in its direction, - illustrating each subdivision of his discourse by apt illustrations drawn from the History of prominent men of all ages and from all Nations.

He cogently enforced his several remarks by an application of them to the pupils, in which his pupils were interested and in their relation to their business lives after graduating from

At the close of this excellant Lecture Prof. A. S. B.

Oyster, one of the Graduates, stepped forward and in a very neat little address presented Prof. Ames with a frame of Introlypes containing the "Countefit presentations" of all his pupils at this time. Prof. Ames accepted the gift in a short address which while expressing the heartiest thanks for the present also conveyed a Volume of Wholesome Instruction to his young Friends.

Mr. E. E. Richardson then read a series of Resolutions adopted by the Students which pay Professor Ames and Professor Gaydon, the Teacher in Penmanship, the highest compliments for professional skill and their rare faculty of imparting their knowledge to others. Professor Ames and Professor Gaydon highly and happily acknowledged this graceful testimonial to their skill and purity as Teachers and to their personal merits.

The following are the Resolutions which were signed by all the Members of the College.

Dear Father and Mother.

The Regiment is ordered to move across the river tonight. We have no means of knowing what reception we are to meet with. I am inclined to the opinion that our entrance to the city of Alexandria will be hotly contested, as I am just informed a large force has arrived there today. Should this happen my dear parents it may be my lot to be injured in some manner. Whatever may happen, cherish the consolation that I was engaged in the performance of a sacred duty: and tonight thinking over the probabilities of tomorrow and the occurrences of the past I am perfectly content to accept whatever my fortune may be. confident that He who noteth even the fall of the sparrow will have some purpose even in the fall of one like me.

Governor of Massachusetts

Sir! No one deplores the sad events of yesterday more deeply than myself, but they were inevitable. Our people viewed the passage of armed troops of another State through the streets as an invasion of our soil, and could not be restrained. The authorities exerted themselves to the best of their ability but with only partial success. Governor Hicks was present and concurred in all my views as to the proceedings now necessary for our protection. When will these scenes cease? One would have a war of sects if God forbid! The bodies of their soldiers could not be sent on to Boston as you requested. All communication between this city and Philadelphia and with Boston having ceased, but they have been placed in convenient coffins and will be placed with proper funeral ceremonies in the mausoleum of Green Mount Cemetery, where they shall be retained until further directions are received from you. The wounded are kindly cared for. I apprude you of what Baltimore will claim it as her right to pay all expenses incurred.

Sir

I inform you that any arms intended for and consigned to the State of Georgia have been seized by Public Authorities in New York? Your answer is important to us and to New York. Answer at once R. D. Combs.

In reply to your dispatch I request to say that arms intended for and consigned to The State of Georgia have been seized by the Police of this State but that the City of New York should in no way be made responsible for the outrage. Is Mayor Thorne no authority over the Police. If I had the power I should summarily punish the Authors of this illegal and unjustifiable seizure of private property

Blood on the City's pavements! — Patriots blood
Shed by insensate traitors who would drag
Down to the mire our Country's stem Flag
And flaunt Disunion's Banner where it stord!

Blood of the Martyrs! holly imbibed!
With power redemptive for our penitent land
It hath a force no treason can withstand
And speaks forever stern and unsubdued.

Pilgrim State, the awful privilege
Once more this thine, upon the Battles edge
With thy son's blood to seal a sacred Cause!

For from each drop so shed, shall grow, as then,

Spring to the fight, as then a thousand armed men
To strike for Liberty and Equal Laws

By request, and in behalf of my Fellow Students and Graduates of your valuable Institution I take this occasion to offer you a slight Testimonial of the high regard in which you are held by us. Hoping that in distant years it may recall to your mind the reminiscences of the present season; and all the pleasant associations of this occasion with the vividness of reality.

We feel that your Course of Instruction, and your now thorough comprehensive System of Imparting a thorough Business Education, are immeasurably above those pursued by most Schools of the present day. And you also feel a conscious pride in saying, that we have been Graduates of that System.

The highest Eulogy we could bestow upon it, is in assuming upon ourselves the great responsibility of recommending it to all of either Sex who wish to become proficient in the actual Business of life.

In closing I would speak of the consistant, unblameable, and gentlemanly character you have displayed in your daily avocations both as a citizen and friend. Be assured we consider it worthy of our highest estimation.

Notwithstanding your established reputations as a Professor and as an Artist. We hope and trust that by the indefatigable Energy you have shown displayed you will achieve still greater honors.

X Commandments

- I The same which followeth in the 2d Chapter of Exodus, saying. Say the Lord thy God. Thou shalt have none other Gods before me.
- II Thou shalt not make to thyself any graven image nor the likeness of anything that is in Heaven above or in the Earth beneath or in the water under the Earth. Thou shalt not bow down to them, nor worship them. For I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, and visit the sins of the sins of the Fathers upon the Children under the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and shew mercy unto thousands of them that shall love me, and keep my commandments.
- III. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain: For the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.
- V. Honor thy Father and Mother, that thy days may be lengthened on Earth.
- VI. Thou shalt not murder.
- X. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his servant, nor his maid, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything which is his.
- IV. Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day, six days shall thou labor and do all thou hast to do: but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God. In it thou shalt do no manner of work, thou and thy servant and thy daughter, thy man servant and thy maid servant thy cattle, and the stranger that is within thy gates. For in Six days the Lord made Heaven and Earth, the Sea and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day wherefore the Lord blessed the Day and hallowed it.
- VII. Thou shalt not commit adultery.
- VIII. Thou shalt not steal.
- IX. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.

= A Game of Life. =

John Gare

There's a game much in fashion I think it's called Euchre
Though I never have played it for pleasure or loss,
In which, when the Cards are in certain conditions,
The players appear to have changed their positions;
And one of them cries in a confident tone,
"I think I may venture to go it alone!"

While watching in the game, 'tis a whim of the cards,
I might to draw from the stemish, un-decided,
And so fancy he finds in the trivial strife,
Some excellent hints for the battle of Life;
Where whether the prize be a ribbon or thone—
The winner is he who can't go it alone!"

When great Gallie proclaimed that the World,
In a regular orbit was, easily whirled,
And got me a count for all of his pains,
But only tension and prison and chains;
It moves for all that was his answring line,
For he knew like the Earth he could go it alone.

When "Relpit" with intellect piercing afar,
Discerned the laws of each planet and star
And Doctors who ought to have laund'd his name
Decided his learning, and blackened his fame
Scan with he replied, till the truth you shall own;
"He fell in his Heart he could go it alone."

Alas for the player who only depends
On the struggles of life upon kindred and friends,
Whatever the bridle of blessing like these
They can never bate for inglorious ease,
Nor comfort the coward who finds with a quav,
That his crutches have left him to go it alone!

There's something no doubt in the hand you may hold;
Health, family, culture, wit, beauty and gold,
The unfortunate owner may fairly regard,
Its back in its way a most treblent card
Yet the game may be lost with all these for you and Unless you've the courage to go it alone!

In battle or business, whether the game
Doubtless or in Love it is ever the same;
In the struggle for power or the scramble for gold,
Let this be your motto "Betty on yourself!"
For whether the prize be a ribbon or thone
The victor is he who can go it alone! "
